

SPRING REFURBISHMENTS WITH demista[™] AND COSYFLOOR

The Christmas decorations have been long packed away, the days are slowly getting longer, and thoughts now turn to the home and garden. If this is the year you are considering updating your bathroom, the demista[™] range of bathroom cabinets with steam free mirror systems are the perfect products to completely banish those unsightly and annoying steamed up mirrors. There are three models to choose from, the GEMINI single cabinet, the APOLLO double cabinet with attractive frosted border and the ZENITH, another double version but this time incorporating chrome door knobs.

Photo shows: The ZENITH cabinet £137.75

Additionally, consider the luxury and pleasure of stepping out of your bath or shower onto a gently warmed floor, courtesy of COSYFLOOR™ or ECOFLOOR underfloor comfort heating. Simple to fit, maintenance free and ideal for surfaces such as tiles, natural stone, marble, laminate and hardwood, the temperature can be easily controlled by a thermostat and the running costs are very low.

Springtime is when you consider extending your home into the garden, and a popular time for building a conservatory. Again, the installation of underfloor heating can ensure this room is kept comfortably warm in the cooler months providing year long use of the conservatory, and there are no unsightly radiators to clutter up the space.

Photo shows: A conservatory incorporating underfloor heating

The cost of the underfloor heating is £29 per square metre excluding installation costs.

The company also supplies demista™ heated mirror pads in various sizes, designed to fit behind mirrors and keep them steam free.

ENDS

Order enquiries contact: R & D Marketing. Tel: 01932 866600

www.demista.co.uk

Media enquiries contact: Elaine Levy/Phyllis Oberman

Birkett Public Relations. Tel: 01234 766688

email:elainelevy@birkettpr.co.uk

Alternative Tel for Phyllis Oberman 0203 234 4098

po@phyllisoberman.co.uk

2008